

To Whom it May Concern,

During the construction of our flagship facility in Denver, Colorado, I had the pleasure of working with and alongside William Shook and Randy Phipps. During the snowiest winter on record, with 12 full work days removed from the schedule due to snow...William and Randy completed our three month project two days ahead of a schedule that every other bidding contractor said was impossible. This feat was made even more impressive by the fact that large changes were made during the construction that could easily have, and in all fairness should have, stretched the schedule.

I am happy to whole heartedly recommend William Shook and Randy Phipps as the team to construct any project, regardless of complexity.

Sincerely,
